

ESM Environmental Statement

ESM is aware of our environmental impact and actively works to reduce this wherever possible.

Where possible we undertake the following measures:

- The use of timber from sustainable sources
- Storage and re-use of components for our exhibition stands, including for example: stock panels, floor batons, electrical components, counters, storage units and aluminium edging
- Minimising our transportation and emissions through carpool and hybrid company vehicles, incentivising green transport alternatives for employees, e.g: cyclescheme
- The use of local suppliers, at ESM and when operating on other sites
- Assessing our supply chains, using recycled and recyclable products in the office
- Minimising our use of utilities: Electricity, Gas, Water through 'switch off when not in use' policies, recording consumption, reduction goals, progress tracking and efforts to sustain continuous improvement
- Sustainability awareness training for our employees in how to reduce their impact on the environment through working activities
- Continuous investigation and annual review of how to reduce our environmental impact
- Avoiding the use of products that may have an impact on the environment (eg Ozone-depleting substances, solvents, lead-based paints, etc)
- Dry Mixed Recycling of paper, cardboard, plastic and metal via local refuse company
- Wood recycling, including mdf, via local refuse company
- Cushioned vinyl recycling through Tarkett's Restart scheme
- Foamex & fabric graphics recycling through our graphics provider
- Donating unwanted tools and equipment to local groups and Charities

Within our offices and workshops we follow a policy of recycling where possible and endeavour to reduce our use of any non-replenishable resources to a minimum.

We only use licensed companies for the removal of any waste from our premises, and divide waste materials wherever possible.

We also make our clients aware of our policy and ask that we are made aware of any procedure they wish to adopt which will require our input or any amendment to our existing operational Process.
